MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

VIA: Deputy Director for Administration

FROM: F. W. M. Janney
Director of Personnel

SUBJECT: Nominations of Candidates for the FY-1979
Public Service Awards Program (U)

1. (U) Action Requested: That you approve the candidates to be nominated for the FY-1979 Public Service Awards Program.

2. (U) Background: A number of Public Service Awards have been established to provide honor and recognition to individuals who have distinguished themselves in Government service. These award programs offer the Agency an opportunity to publicly acknowledge the accomplishments of its most deserving employees. Attached is a booklet which describes these awards and lists past Agency nominees together with recent award winners.

In order to insure that qualified candidates are not overlooked and to provide for a coordinated review, the Office of Personnel annually requests that the Career Services consider carefully all of their members and encourages the submission of nominations. The combined list of nominees is subsequently reviewed by the Honor and Merit Awards Board and forwarded to you for final decision.

3. (U/AILO) Staff Position: The Honor and Merit Awards Board has reviewed the Career Service nominations for FY-1979 and agreed that the following individuals should be considered for the awards indicated.

Name	Office	Award
25X1A [REDACTED]	OLC	Justice Tom C. Clark Award
John F. Blake	ISAS/DDA	Everette O. Aldredge Award
25X1A [REDACTED]	DD/A	National Civil Service League Award
	NFAC	Arthur S. Flemming Awards
	NFAC	Federal Woman's Award

Biographic profiles of these individuals are attached for information purposes.

In addition to the above listed candidates, [REDACTED] of the DDO and [REDACTED] of the OLC were nominated for the Federal Retiree of the Year Award. It was the opinion of the Honor and Merit Awards Board that selection of a candidate for this award should be postponed until later in the calendar year in order to also consider those employees who may retire within the next four or five months.

There are 12 awards for which nominations were not submitted for FY-1979. These awards are generally for performance in fields of activity in which Agency employment does not provide appropriate background; for example, the Rockefeller Public Service Award for outstanding contributions to the improvement of American society in particular problem areas. Others, while generically covering types of work performed in the Agency (e.g., personnel, printing, finance), are directed to broader public achievements than Agency service allows.

4. (U) Recommendation: It is recommended that you approve the nominations indicated in paragraph 3 above and that consideration of candidates for the Federal Retiree of the Year Award be deferred until November 1978.

PRESIDENTIAL MANAGEMENT IMPROVEMENT AWARD

Awards Granted By: The Office of Management and Budget and the Civil Service Commission will review the nominations and recommend to the President those which they feel merit the Presidential Management Improvement Award.

Purpose of Awards: President Carter has emphasized the importance of having men and women in Government actively participate in helping to improve and restructure the Government in the areas of energy conservation, reorganization, paperwork reduction, regulation reform, or zero base budgeting. He asked that major achievements be brought to his attention so that he can add his congratulations through personal letters of commendation. At the end of each fiscal year, the Agency will review suggestion achievement contributions made by Agency personnel which have been recognized by a Presidential letter of commendation during the fiscal year and may recommend for a Presidential Management Improvement Award those which they believe merit this prestigious recognition. Nominations must be received by the Civil Service Commission not later than 10 January annually. Recognition granted within the framework of this program will be in addition to any monetary or honorary awards authorized by the Agency.

Eligibility Criteria: Presidential letters of commendation must have been presented for contributions that were beyond job requirements and that resulted in first-year measurable benefits of $5,000 or higher. Contributions with intangible benefits should be of such importance to the Agency and the Government that they warranted and were awarded Presidential letters of commendation. An individual, small working group or team achievement may be recommended for the Presidential Management Improvement Award. Achievements that meet the criteria for Presidential recognition that were approved for recognition within the Agency after 1 January may be recommended to the President for consideration.

Number of Awards Granted: Unlimited; they will be in the form of Presidential letters, plaques, or certificates.

Number of Nominations: Unlimited.

FEDERAL WOMAN'S AWARD

The Federal Woman's Awards Program is currently being reviewed for possible modifications. Under consideration is the design of a program which recognizes the contributions persons have made to the advancement of women, and encourages continued efforts to enhance career opportunities for women. For this reason, invitations to submit nominations will be delayed until this assessment has been completed. Agencies will be notified as soon as further information is available.
